THE NATURALIZATION LAWS.

Justice Strong, late of the Supreme Court of the United States, in the May number of the North American Review, advises complete reconstruction of the naturalization laws. Most thoughtful people will agree with him that admission to citizenship is too easy a matter. Citizenship in the United States is a greater political privilege than is citizenship of any other nation. It vests the foreign-born with the right to a voice in making the laws of the land, and in naming every governmental officer. It places the foreigner on a plane with the native-born, with a solitary exception. Government is what the citizens make it. It is, consequently, of the highest importance to good government that there be the highest character of citizenship. Justice Strong therefore concludes that our naturalization laws are too liberal, because they do not necessarily produce the high character of citizenship that is so essential to the perpetuity of our institutions.

What do we now require of the applicant for the privileges of sovereignty? A declaration of bona fide intention to become a citizen. Two years thereafter he may appear before a Court and take the oath of allegiance and to support the Constitution and laws, and make the declaration of renunciation of all other allegiance. On proof of five years residence, of good moral character and attachment to the principles of the Government, etc., the applicant is to be admitted. In some cases residence for a period less than five years is sufficient. This system was adopted when the needs of the country for immigration were greater than at present. In the early period the income of immigrants was too slight to affect the national character materially. The situation is very different now. In 1850 we had nearly 7,000,000 of foreign-born among our inhabitants, and since then immigration has vastly increased.

The important question Justice Strong propounds is, has not the time come when the period of residence, as a qualification for citizenship, should be greatly prolonged? For himself, he gives an emphatic affirmative response, and then proceeds to fortify it. It is scarcely necessary to recite his reasons. They are such as suggest themselves to all intelligent citizens. So soon as a man is naturalized he becomes a participant in all the details of government. He is given power to direct, and possibly to mold our institutions. In not a few localities the foreign-born absolutely control the political systems, and very generally they hold the balance of power. If the country has not thus far suffered by reason of this, what assurance have we that it will not suffer in the future from it? At least, how long will it be before local interests take harm? Very many of the new citizens do not read the English language; immigration from the non-English speaking countries now outnumbers that from British possessions. There is a growing disposition also to maintain a foreign sentiment. This, as Justice Strong says, "is illustrated in the conduct of some Irish immigrants, who have exhibited a readiness to violate our laws and embroil the country in controversy with England for the sake of their native land, and this though they are our naturalized citizens. Naturalization does not necessarily change the affections or the old love."

It will be remembered that this journal has frequently taken occasion to enter its protest against the spirit of "clan," and the preservation among naturalized citizens of distinctive political affiliation foreign to our system, and also of the disposition to vote together, and act together because of original nationality. To the citizens thoroughly imbued with the American spirit, nothing is more offensive than the propositions in political contests, to do this, that, or the other thing to "conciliate" or "catch" the German voter, or "Irish voter." The genesis of such schemes is in the spirit of the naturalized foreigners of given nationalities to "pull together" as foreigners, rather than as American citizens. It may well be considered whether increasing the difficulties of naturalization, and extending the probationary period, will not tend to break down the evil complained of, and which no broadly intelligent foreigner we have ever met has excused or defended. A government is what its citizens make it.

For the government of the United States of America, therefore, we need the highest development of the American spirit, and the minimum of foreign feeling and attachment.

Returning to Justice Strong's essay we find him declaring that there is no national need any longer for hasty naturalization. We must measure the greatness of our nation, the benevolent working of its institutions, and the well-being of its people by intelligence, conscientiousness and obedience to law and no longer by our numbers. To prolong the foreigner's probation will in no wise prevent his incurring or limit his opportunities to improve his condition. The will be opposed to this in the same way hindrance from seeking our house of refuge, or limited in the possibilities of civil and religious liberty. It will take them from no right, because suffrage is not a right. It is so popularly known that there is no greater mistake or more serious error. In no less than fourteen States the alien is allowed to vote for the first time after he has passed the file.

Third Ward Democratic Club will meet at their Clubroom, Fourteenth and I streets, at 8 o'clock sharp, to attend the Annual Meeting of the Board of Directors.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

HOWARD BENEVOLENT ASSOCIATION.—The usual monthly meeting of the Directors of this institution was held May 4th and showed the following as its operations for April: 210 persons were helped by the steward during the month, by 521 dispensations. There remained upon the books May 1st, 10 infirm persons, 100 women of whom 21 were indigent and 57 children; all 97 persons will still need help during the present month. The Treasurer's report shows $160 good from monthly subscribers, and $20 and $3 interest account in all $137.65 while his disbursements amounted to $100, leaving a balance in the treasury of $96.35 which will be reduced by the bills audited at the meeting ($37.04) to $63.31, and will compel the reduction of dispensations during the summer to one-half the monthly amount of the winter and spring months.

ONE PLEADS GUILTY.—Walter Lee, one of the two men arrested by Chief Jackson last Saturday on suspicion of their being the parties who robbed Silas Totten's chicken coop Friday night, admitted to the Chief yesterday that he was guilty. That is he, and Frank Stewart, the man arrested with him, and with whom he had been camping, had agreed to rob the coop, and left the camp while Stewart was away, to keep watch while Stewart went in and stole four chickens. They pulled the heads from the fowls, went to the brush north of the house, built a fire and cooked two, and ate them for dinner. On another occasion, Stewart had stolen a few things since his arrest that he knew nothing of, and persisted in it even after Lee told his story before him.

NOTARIES PUBLIC.—The Governor has appointed and commissioned the following Notaries Public: Jno. R. Palmer, Alameda, to reside at Pleasanton; H. W. Palmer, Alameda, to reside at Alameda; Thos. L. Lindsay, Calaveras, to reside at Angels Camp; A. M. Heron, Colusa, to reside at Princeton; Wm. Faymonville, Fresno, to reside at Fresno; Thos. Bynum, Lake, to reside at Lakeport; Jas. A. Barnard, Marin, to reside at San Rafael; Chas. C. Noves, Napa, to reside at Napa City; Wm. Burgess, San Diego, to reside at National City; H. W. Wright, Santa Clara, to reside at San Jose; L. C. Traylor, Santa Clara, to reside at Los Gatos; Chas. Hoffmann, Santa Cruz, to reside at Santa Cruz; M. S. Babcock, Tulare, to reside at Tulare.

CHEAT IN WHEAT.—Ex-Supervisor Becker was in the city yesterday purchasing machinery and getting ready for harvesting. He says the crops in the neighborhood of Franklin, and in fact throughout the southern portion of the county, will not be as good as was anticipated some weeks ago. The heat and long-contiguous rains kept the growth very slow for several weeks and caused a large growth of what is known as cheat. The best fields contain at least one-fourth cheat, and in some localities it is so bad that the crop will be cut for hay.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.—The Board met yesterday, all the members present except Messrs. Steinman and Baley. Minutes read and approved. The report of W. K. Tucker, H. W. Lowell and H. C. Kathren, Vice Presidents of the Bank of America of G. C. Roberts and others, was read and the case set for hearing Tuesday, May 26th. The petition and bond of John McComb and others for the right of way for a road between the city and, and W. K. Tucker, S. P. Boyd and O. S. Frey, appointed Viewers. The Board adjourned until 10 a. m. to-day.

POLICE COURT.—In the Police Court yesterday the case of James Quigley, for vagrancy, was continued until this morning. That of Mrs. L. Gove, for misdeemeanor in violating the health ordinance was set for the 8th. Pe. J. J. Jiffy, arrested for having been a drunkard, was discharged. The case of a disturber of the peace was dismissed on motion of the prosecution. The case of John Montgomery, for malicious mischief, was dismissed on payment of costs....John Doe's case of drunkenness went over until this morning.

INCORPORATED.—Articles of incorporation were filed with the Secretary of State yesterday of the Buena Vista Mining Company of Arizona, for the purpose of carrying on a mining, milling and smelting business in the New Mexico and Arizona part of Pima Arizona Territory. Principal place of business, San Francisco. Directors, James F. Lewis, Thos. H. Caswell, George O. Brier, Benjamin Morgan, Charles W. Tozer, capital stock, $10,000,000, divided into 200,000 shares.

ST. PAUL'S PICNIC.—The St. Paul's church picnic, which promises to be one of the most successful ever, will be held at the National Grove to-morrow. James Beale & Grant's Band will be engaged, and the best kind of a good time is anticipated from the general arrangements made. Those who desire can visit the Branch State Prison between the hours of 1:30 and 4 p. m. Bands will be called for at various places, as will be seen by reference to advertisement.

APPLICANTS FOR THE BAL.—The following-named gentlemen will appear before the Supreme Court this morning as applicants to be permitted to practice at the bar of the State: W. A. Hamilton, B. L. Davis, A. L. Shinn, William Gilbert, John W. Goff, M. T. Gray, Clark, Daniel Sutter, C. H. Hart, George A. Wadsworth, F. P. Bunting, W. L. Lovell, W. H. Lincoln, White and C. H. Ogman. The two last named are residents of this city.

DESIRABLE THIEVING.—The wire frames for holding flowers, which were placed on the grave of the late Horace Eldred in the City Cemetery, and which the family filled each day with fresh flowers, were a few evenings since stolen. A reward has been offered for their recovery, and the perpetrator of this most ungrateful act will be punished to the full extent of the law.

ARMED.—The following arrests were made yesterday: Robert Williams, by Patrick Nash, for disturbing the peace. Frank Stewart and Walter Lee by Chief Jackson, for peit. larceny. Al Mon, by Deputy Constable Rider, for embezzlement; Charles Dodge, by officer Woods, or the two last named are residents of this city.

THE TIVOLI.—There was an excellent attendance at the Tivoli last night to witness the first presentation of "True Devotion." It is a light drama of three acts, and was especially written for Ben Cottet and his daughter Idalene. A quarter of a century ago Ben Cottet, in this city, at that time he became a tramp, taught young cork artists on the stage. "True Devotion" is very well presented. The same program for the balance of the week.

GERMAN LUTHERAN PICNIC.—The annual picnic of the German Lutheran Sunday school will be held to-morrow at Richmond Grove, and will be doubtless a pleasant social affair.

THE RAMS.—That fine store-room, with large show windows and fixtures, located on the corner of Eighth and Folsom, is to let. The location is second to none in Sacramento. Ventilation is good. The rent is as low as many businesses houses need not be favorably located. Inquire of J. T. Stoll, 610 Folsom.
